

HOKKAIDO ROUNDTABLE

Comparative Analysis of Ethnic Political Mobilization: Non-titular Nations versus Titular Nations in the Former Soviet Republics

"Concord or Division? The Unexpectedly Underwhelming Role of Ethnicity in Russian Politics, 1991-2011"

Dmitry Gorenburg, Senior Analyst, CNA Strategic Studies; Center Associate, Davis Center

"Political Mobilization and Framing: Ethno-National, Ethno-Territorial, and Economic Movements"

Cynthia S. Kaplan, Professor of Comparative Politics, Department of Political Science of University of California, Santa Barbara

"Ethnic Political Mobilization: An Integrative or Disintegrative Force in the Modern Polity? Case-studies of Political Mobilization by Non-titular Nations in Moldova, Estonia and Lithuania"

Keiji Sato, Visiting Scholar, Davis Center; Research Fellow, Slavic Research Center of Hokkaido University

"Avoiding 'Transdniestr North': Reflections on Non-Titular Ethnic Mobilization in North-East Estonia since 1990"

David J. Smith, Professor of Baltic History and Politics, Central and East European Studies of Glasgow University

MONDAY, DECEMBER 5, 2011

4:15 PM – 6:00 PM

1730 CAMBRIDGE STREET, CGIS SOUTH
3RD FLOOR, ROOM S354